

Questions for Reflection

After revisiting highlights from Esther's Gamble and praying with Nano's Icon, you are invited to prayerfully reflect on the following questions:

1. What would Nano invite us to pay attention to "at a time such as this"? What wisdom might Nano or Esther suggest to us in light of their own experiences of call and mission, scarcity and abundance, and ability to move forward despite lingering fear, etc.?
2. As we consider shifting from perceived scarcity to abundance of creative potential, in what ways and moments does a perception of scarcity show up for you or us?

in what ways and moments does a mindset of abundance show up for you or us?
3. As we consider Nano's witness, "In the face of fear she chose to be daring," what does fear look like when it surfaces in you personally? In us communally?

what does daring look like when it surfaces in you personally? In us communally?

Please bring the fruits of your reflection with you to the November 1st or 3rd Pre-Chapter ZOOM gathering to offer your wisdom and insights.
